My task was to analyze imperialism.

- Did I provide enough background information to help the reader understand how the explorer reflected the goals of European imperialism?
- Have I described the impact of the exploration on the development of settlements, not simply provided information about the settlements?
- Have I described the impact of the exploration on the social and economic structures, not simply provided information about the structures?

Questions to guide the coach’s feedback

Does the background give enough information to help the reader understand what happened?

Does the description of the impact on settlements, social and economic structures make sense?

Does the information deal with the most important parts of the events?
